Why Save Water?

Fresh water is a finite resource. The more litres we flush down the drain, the more litres we have to treat in the sewage treatment plants. This costs us all in the long run. Bottom line?

"Stop flushing your money away!"

If we all save a little now, we'll save a lot later.

Average water consumption for a typical home in Pincher Creek is 18 cubic metres per month. On average, each person in a home will flush the toilet six times a day — that's over 7,000 litres just on flushing your toilet!
